

311-b

OGC HAS REVIEWED.

29 October 1951

Mr. George C. Parry, Jr.
SCHNADER, HARRISON, SEGAL & LEWIS
1719 Packard Building
Philadelphia 2, Pennsylvania

Dear George:

Thank you so much for your note about [redacted] STATINTL Efficient secretaries of any sort are scarcer than hen's teeth down here and a legal one with a sense of humor is just too much to expect. If she can stand your type of humor, she should do well in Washington.

I have by no means forgotten our conversation last August, but have not been in a position to discuss anything which I felt would be of any real interest to you. It is not dead, but you know how slowly these things grind through even in most efficient Government machines (which in some ways I honestly think we are).

If you are down again, come in and see me for another rehash of old times.

STATINTL [redacted] was in town for dinner the other night and in very good form in spite of a cold. He brought with him [redacted] and her fiancée. Had you heard that Laura was engaged? We are all delighted.

No other news I can think of at this particular moment.

Very truly yours,

LAWRENCE R. HOUSTON

STAT